FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bedrock Learning to Give Away Free Courses and a Netbook at CEDIA EXPO 2011

Bedrock Learning, the preferred connected home and commercial training provider, will present attendees to 2011 CEDIA EXPO with the exclusive opportunity to win free online courses throughout the duration of the show. Each day of the show, visitors to the Bedrock Learning booth (#4334) can register to win their choice of any online training course offered by Bedrock Learning. Additionally, Bedrock Learning will present one lucky attendee with a new Netbook which will be awarded at the conclusion of CEDIA Expo 2011.

Bedrock Learning's comprehensive educational courses provide professional integrators with an easy to use, online learning platform for the industry's latest and best technical training and product training. Each course includes quizzes and ends with a comprehensive test allowing students to demonstrate their newfound knowledge of the subject matter. Upon successful completion of the course, students receive a Certificate of Completion and are prepared for hands-on, product specific training by manufacturers or on a job site.

Bedrock Learning offers a full line of online courses including Introduction to the Digital Home, Networking, Structured Wiring, Multi-Room Audio, Home Theater, Lighting Control, Security and Access Control, and Project Management.
